

Mateo Delgadillo

Bio

My name is Mateo Delgadillo, and I am majoring in Business Management with a Pre-Law concentration at the University of Nevada, Reno. After graduating, I plan to go into a career related to business or law.

Background

I have a solid technical background and am comfortable using a computer for school and work. I regularly use Google Docs, Microsoft Word, Excel, and email. As an online running coach, I also use training platforms and spreadsheets to create training plans and track progress.

Who I am

I was born in Sacramento, California, and grew up in Rocklin, California. I chose UNR so I could compete in cross country and track while earning my degree. Outside of school, I enjoy rock climbing and thrifting. Being a student-athlete and coach has taught me the importance of discipline, time management, and consistency.
